of Representatives.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and House of Representatives,

THE present meeting of the General Assembly at an earlier period than the constitutional, has been required, to afford to the state an opportunity to participate in the pending election of President and Vice President of the United States. An event so important, involving principles so interesting, should not be suffered to transpire without exercising our rights as a member of the Union.

Since the last session, and in conformity to the provisions of an act of the legislature, the commissioners selected to locate the lots of ground granted to this state, on condition that our future and permanent site for the seat of government, should be thereon located; were, by proclamation, requested to meet on the 22d day of May last. They met accordingly; and it should be a source of much public satisfaction, that they discharged their duty with unanimity, and it is believed to the satisfaction of the different sections of the state.

The property thus secured, by timely care and prudent management, will in due time produce ample resources, without resorting to taxation, to meet the expenditures necessary for the erection of all public edifices of state character. This property, if the ultimate proceeds of its value be realized, should be secured from speculation by the time, manner and also by the conditions of its sale. The person or persons, to whom the disposition of the whole or any part thereof may be confided, should be required to make frequent reports of their official proceedings; and should at all times be subject to removal from the trust, when the public interest would require it, without the procrastination attendant upon impeachment or the formal process of a judicial proceeding. Although it is not to be presumed, that expectation is to be disappointed in the exercise of such trust sooner than another, it becomes our duty, notwithstanding, acting as public agents, to secure the interest of the community, by every safeguard which the principles of the constitution and the genius of our government may authorise.

Of the funds appropriated for the purpose of purchasing stock in the Jeffersonville Ohio Canal Company, in behalf of the state, a portion of it has been paid on the whole number of shares for which a subscription was authorised to be made, and the residue remains deposited, subject to the draft of the executive, to the use however for which it was intended. The importance of the object contemplated by that association, interests the commercial enterprise of a great portion of the citizens of the state, and its completion cannot be separated from the reputation of the state, at least so far as it is connected with our exertion in favor of internal improvement. To appropriate a certain portion of the three per cent fund, assigned to making roads and canals within the state, not to exceed one half of its annual amount, until the object be attained, upon the condition that the state of Ohio shall become interested, would unite public confidence sufficiently to remove in a reasonable time, the impediments presented by the falls of Ohio to the increasing and greatly to be enlarged commerce necessarily to be entrusted to its navigation.

The paper circulating medium of our state presents a subject matter of important consideration. The depreciated situation of that portion of it which has emanated from the non specie paying banks, requires an impartial examination into the causes, as also their situation, to enable us to do justice to the importance of the subject, as well as the interests of all concerned. Those who are not debtors to the Banks, cannot be considered as unjustifiable, when they complain of the depreciation of their paper; but public sentiment has yet to be expressed in relation to those, who are defaulters to the banks, in not meeting the payments required, though not unfrequently they find inducements to injure the credit of the Banks from which, they improperly withhold payment. It cannot be denied, that the disinterested holder of depreciated bank paper, on account of the uncertainty of the rates of exchange, must at all times be subjected to loss ; while, the defaulters to the banks may be gainers in proportion to the depreciation of their paper ; and this depreciation produced, on account of, and in proportion to, the amount withheld by nonpayment. Every measure, which shall have a tendency to subject the paper medium of the state, to a greater depreciation than at present, unless such measures should be required by other reasons than the amount of their paper in circulation, will tend to the injury of the disinterested holder, and enable the debtors to the banks to discharge those debts, by speculation in the purchase of the paper of the Banks to which they stand indebted. Although most of our banks, from want of foresight, have acted imprudently in issuing paper too freely ; yet, from the best information, they have generally been engaged in recalling it from circulation for more than a year past.

To restore the circulating medium to a specie standard, should unite our exertions in every rational and practical measure tending to that object ; and although it may be impracticable to accomplish it as soon as would be desirable, without producing considerable sacrifices of property, yet our views should be constantly directed to its accomplishment. To designate a time, within which it shall be made the duty of the banks to resume specie payments is recommended to your consideration, having a reference in prescribing such time, to the consequence of forced payments upon the community, and the corresponding requisite of legal means of collection. Such a measure will enable the banks, as well as legally require them, to force collections ; and stimulate to further exertion, such, as may be desirous to continue as bodies corporate, and likewise remove that uncertainty which is entertained in relation to their ultimate solvency, or prove their intentions by the result.

Upon this subject it will be my duty, at an early period, to present to your consideration a report of the situation of the State Bank and branches in a separate Message ; and likewise copies of a correspondence had with our non-specie paying Banks.

The situation of the debtors of the United States, and especially those who are actual settlers, will claim a portion of your deliberations. The procrastination of the time of payment of those debts, seems to meet the views of the General Government with reluctance. If it shall meet your approbation to present your wishes in behalf of your constituents, in favor of a measure, which, shall authorise the debtors to the United States to have their monies now paid, transferred to their credit, on such portion of the lands already purchased, as they may select, at one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre ; provided the number of acres upon which such transfer be made, be not less than one half of one quarter section, they would have their due weight ; and if ultimately successful, would be calculated to relieve the actual settlers from the forfeitures of their homes, their money and their labor, which without relief must be inevitable.

The embarrassments of a pecuniary character to which we are subjected, may be attributed chiefly to our vast consumption of articles of foreign growth or manufacture, draining the country of the precious metals, and leaving us indebted to the commercial cities. The surplus produce of the state, increasing in quantity and reduced in price, has been greatly deficient in the amount of its proceeds, to meet the demands upon us which have been created by the consumption of foreign objects of merchandize. By the co-operation of these circumstances, we have become subjected to debts, beyond our present ability to discharge ; and our best interests will require, that we resort to a certain and at the same time a constitutional remedy, from which permanent relief will be realized. To retrace these errors however facinating, which national pride or false ambition may have produced ; and directing the future, by a strict scrutiny of the past ; by curtailing our consumption of foreign articles ; by the application of active industry, not less to domestic manufactures of every description, than to the soil ; thereby, saving from the former, while realizing the nett gains of the proceeds of the latter, we may ere long be reinstated in our former independence, and learn by experience that moderate and certain gains afford the safest guarantee to relative wealth, so far as may be essential to the attainment of public and private happiness.

The constitution requires, during your present session, a new apportionment of the representation of the state, to the General Assembly. To accomplish this important object with impartiality to the different counties and sections of the state, will be productive of much public satisfaction.

The ways and means for the ensuing year will necessarily claim your attention. Since the operation of the State Government, the average annual income arising from taxation, may be estimated at 13,000 dolls. and the annual average expenditure amounts to more than 17,000. This estimate produces an annual deficit, exceeding 4,000 dolls. to meet the expenses of government, without taking into calculation the delays attendant upon the collections of the revenue, produced in part, by the present system of assessment and collection. To meet such deficiency, the recourse has been to loans, and for the future, if the public credit shall be supported, resort must be to additional taxes or to loan as formerly, to meet, not only this deficiency, but an increased expenditure, necessarily to be provided for as a consequence of an increased representation in the General Assembly. If further loans are to be required it may add to the depreciated paper already in circulation, which should be avoided, but if additional taxation, it is submitted to the General Assembly, as being better informed of the wishes and abilities of our constituents, and more competent to decide in relation to the objects to which such taxation shall be directed.

It is not without reluctance, that a revision of the present revenue laws is again recommended to your consideration. To require the assessment of taxes to be made at an earlier period each year, would afford more time for payment and enable collectors with more certainty, and less inconvenience to the people, to meet their payments to the Treasury. During the last year more than five thousand dollars have remained unpaid, which should have been received at the Treasury during the month of December last, or within three months thereafter, while shortly after the close of the last session, there were no funds in the Treasury but the paper of Ohio Banks whose credit was greatly depreciated.

The interchange of laws between this and other states of the Union, requires attention. The greater portion of the states have presented to this state, copies of their laws; and request a similar return; all of which, together with various state papers of the United States, have been deposited in the office of the Secretary for this state subject to the use of the Legislature.

The frequent changes which our laws of a general nature have undergone tend to prevent their provisions from being generally known. Many of our fellow citizens have neither the time nor possess the opportunity, to trace the many alterations which take place in the laws regulating the administration of justice, determining the rights of persons and of property: It is not presumed that the progressive improvement of the human mind, will not require revisions of, and amendatory enactments to our laws; but experience should clearly dictate the necessity, as well as the extent of, additional legislative provisions before they should be carried into execution.

The public good will no doubt be the ultimate object of all your deliberations, mutually exercised with becoming forbearance towards error of opinion ; and with such confidence, reposed, and a becoming reliance upon the Ruler of the Universe, whose goodness & whose laws are equally perfect, you have the assurance of my entire co-operation.

JONATHAN JENNINGS.

That for the public printing, propositions were made by Messrs. Brandon and Co. and by Messrs. Cox and Nelson; which propositions were received within the time prescribed by law, neither of which were accepted or acted on, owing to a want of unanimity in the committee in selecting from the two propositions. The business was therefore suspended, under an expectation that perhaps the contract might finally be adjusted by a division of the public printing, by consent or agreement of the applicants. Other communications were afterwards received relative to the aforesaid proposals, all of which are respectfully submitted.

ington, Sullivan, Pike, Jefferson, Monroe, Martin and Scott no duplicates having been received for 1820, no estimate can therefore be made of revenue that may be derived from thence.

A message from the Governor by Mr. Brandon, Announcing that he is instructed by his Excellency to communicate to the House of Representatives the following message:

To the House of Representatives.

The document presented with this communication, represents complaints existing on the account of a supposed inattention in the discharge of the duty of the office of Adjutant General, and the officer entrusted therewith, is desirous that an examination should take place by the Representatives of the people. In the discharge of public trusts, it is due to those charged with responsibility, to examine into their official conduct, when complaints are made, and to determine whether they are worthy of censure, and it is equally due to public welfare, that neglect of duty, whether required or not, should be investigated. By reference to the dates when the returns have been received, of the elections of militia officers, and a comparison with the dates of the applications from the Adjutant General's office to the Secretary of State for commissions, as well as the records of the dates when such commissions were executed, will afford ample evidence, with some explanations in reference to the alledged charges.

The connection between the office of Adjutant General and that of Secretary of State, is inseperable, in relation to the commissions of a military character, which are frequently required. The punctuality and attention with which the duties of the Adjutant General's office have been discharged, so far as necessarily comes within my observation, compels me to conclude that, upon examination, the causes of complaint will, if located, be found to have had their origin in the office of the Secretary of State. Within my own knowledge, instances of gross neglect and direct carelessness have transpired, and whatever may have appeared from a slight examination of his office from November, 1818, to the month of September, 1819, there was no regular entry made upon his record book, nor from November 5th, 1819, the date to which the Secretary had progressed with his record when a committee of the General Assembly at their last session examined his office, there was not an entry on that record on the first of August last.

An examination is recommended into the complaints and charges alluded to, on the part of the General Assembly.

JONATHAN JENNINGS.

December 1st, 1820.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Corydon, Nov. 29, 1820. }

His Excellency Jonathan Jennings,

SIR—As some dissatisfaction exists in relation to this office, and complaints have recently been made of the management and proceedings therein, I have thought it a duty which I owe to myself and the community generally, to solicit through your Excellency an examination into and exposure to the world of the condition and proceedings of said office, so that the truth or falsehood of the alledged complaints may be fairly tested by an ingenious public.

I am, sir, with considerations of respect,
your obedient servant,

STEPHEN RANNY,
Adjutant General.

The above communications were read, and,

On motion,

Ordered, to be referred to the committee on military affairs, to consider and report thereon.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Auditor and Treasurer.

CORYDON, December 1st, 1820.

To the Honorable, the Speaker of the House of Representatives,

We, the undersigned, two of the committee entrusted to contract for the public printing, did receive propositions for the performance of the same from Messrs. Cox and Nelson, also, from Messrs. Brandon and Co. which propositions were, on or about the 1st day of October last, unsealed in the presence of the whole committee. There was a requisition of money in advance in Messrs. Cox and Nelson's proposals, and an additional charge in Messrs. Brandon and Co's. proposals for ruled and figured work. It was then, without dissention, agreed that the adoption of either propositions should be suspended for a time, and that a correspondence should be had with each of the editors, in explanation of their respective propositions. There was this additional reason, which prompted a majority of the committee not to close the contract on the day the law would seem to require. It was believed beneficial to the state to divide the contract between the two only applicants.

At a subsequent meeting of the Committee it was unanimously thought surpassing the pale of our authority to divide the contract, especially without the leave of the applicants, and no such leave being obtained, the only question with the committee to determine, was who should have the contract from the propositions offered. The Auditor was first required to give his vote, which, after assigning for reason that there was little or no difference in the proposals, taken all together, and in point of local advantages, adjudging in favor of Brandon and Co. voted accordingly.

The Secretary of State being next requested to make a selection, without assigning his reason, signified his wish by voting for Cox and Nelson.

The Treasurer agreeing in opinion with the Auditor, the proposals of Brandon and Co. were accordingly selected. We deemed it our duty, thus in a short communication, to give the Legislature our reasons for the contract made. The committee would have been much gratified to be relieved from the duty of contracting, but it having been assigned them by the last Legislature, they proceeded to discharge the trust reposed, as they believed most conducive to the general interests of the state.

We have the honor to be,

Very respectfully, yours, &c.

WILLIAM H. LILLY,

Auditor of Public Accounts.

DANIEL C. LANE,

Treasurer of State.

Which communication was read and laid on the table.

Mr. Hay submitted the remonstrance of George White remonstrating against the prayer of the trustees of the town of Jeffersonville on the subject of a ferry, which having been read was referred to the committee to whom was referred the said petition.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Slaughter announcing that the Senate have adopted the following resolution to-wit:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives be requested to furnish the Senate with the proposals made by different Editors and the contract made with Brandon and Co. for the public printing of the present General Assembly.

On motion by Mr. Sullivan of Knox,

Resolved, That the communications from the auditor, treasurer and secretary of state on the subject of public printing be handed to the secretary of the Senate.

On motion,

Ordered, That Messrs. Zenor, Sturgus and Hanna, be added to the committee on public printing.

into the expediency of repealing the act entitled an act for the benefit of debtors, approved 28th Dec. 1818, and of providing by law that no paper shall be deemed current except the notes of such chartered banks as pass generally at par, in the vicinity and redeem their notes with specie, when presented and demanded, and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

On the question of the adoption of the said resolution the ayes and noes being demanded, by Messrs. Sullivan of Knox, and Robb, those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Clark, Crawford, Gibson, Goudie, Grass, Green, Hanna, Holman, John, McDonald, Milroy, Powell, Robb, Ross, Sturgus, Sullivan of Jefferson, Sullivan of Knox, Swaine, Tipton, Yandes, & Zenor.

Those who voted in the negative were,

Messrs. Ferris, Hay and Merrell.

Messrs. Robb, Ross and Powell, were appointed a committee on said resolution

On motion by Mr. Milroy,

Mr. Sullivan of Knox is added to the committee of ways and means.

On motion by Mr. John,

Resolved, That the judiciary be instructed to take into consideration the expediency of reducing into one act, all the acts and parts of acts, now in force in the state, regulating the duties and powers of justices of the peace, with amendments, if any are necessary, with leave to report by bill or otherwise.

On motion,

Resolved, That the committee on the resolution heretofore introduced by Mr. Powell on the subject of the duties of Justices of the peace be discharged from the further consideration thereof, and that the same be referred to the judiciary committee to which committee Mr. Powell is added.

Mr. Tipton gave notice that he will on Monday next ask leave to introduce a bill to provide for the election of constables and to regulate their fees.

On motion,

The House proceeded to consider the orders of the day and,

CORYDON, December 4th, 1820.

To the House of Representatives.

Herewith I transmit you a copy of the reply of the Brookville branch bank, to my letter of the 2d Sept.

Respectfully, yours, &c.

JONATHAN JENNINGS.

The communication from the Brookville branch bank alluded to in said message, was read and referred to the committee on the subject of banks generally.

Mr. Ross, from the committee to whom was referred the subject of amendments necessary to the several acts regulating the duties and jurisdiction of justices of the peace, reported that the committee had, according to order, had the said subject under consideration, and had directed him to prepare a bill, entitled a bill to amend an act, entitled an act regulating the duties and jurisdiction of justices of the peace.

Mr. Ross, from the committee to whom was referred the petition of Reuben W. Nelson, attorney in fact for the Trustees of the town of Jeffersonville, submitted the following report:

The committee to whom was referred the petition of the Trustees of the town of Jeffersonville, praying an act to establish a ferry for their benefit, and the documents accompanying the same, and also the remonstrance of George White against the said petition, report—that they have had the subject under consideration, and from an investigation of the subject, it appears that in the year 1802, Isaac Bowman, by John Gwathmey, his attorney in fact, laid off the town of Jeffersonville, and appointed certain persons trustees thereof, to whom he, by deed in fee, 150 acres of land, in lots comprising the town of Jeffersonville, to be sold and disposed of by said trustees, for the benefit of said Bowman, in which transfer or conveyance, the said Bowman expressly reserves to himself the right which he then had as proprietor of the soil, to establish one or more ferries from said land across the Ohio river. The legal effect of which reservation is, in the opinion of your committee, not for them now to determine, but more properly belongs to a judicial tribunal to decide.

Independent of this consideration, however, your committee have examined the statute of this state, entitled, an act to establish and regulate ferries, and an act supplemental thereto, in which it seems the legislature have authorized the board of commissioners in the several counties in this state to establish ferries whenever it may be necessary or expedient. And your committee see no good reason why this application was not made to the board of county commissioners of Clark county, who would no doubt have granted the ferry applied for if public convenience required it; and if application should be made, and the county commissioners refuse to do justice, the applicants have their right of appeal to the highest judicial tribunal in the state for redress. Your committee are of opinion that the subject matter of this application is a proper subject for the consideration of a judicial tribunal, and ought not to consume the time of the General Assembly. Your committee is, therefore, of opinion that the prayer of the petitioners is unreasonable and ought not be granted.

Which report was read and ordered to lie on the table.

The Speaker submitted a communication from the trustees of the state seminary of Indiana, which is as follows :

To the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of Indiana, at Corydon assembled.

The Trustees of the state seminary of Indiana, beg leave to report :

That after having executed their bond with security to the Governor of the state of Indiana, and taken the oath prescribed by law, four of the trustees, viz : William Lowe, Jonathan Nicholas, David H. Maxwell, and John M. Jenkins, met on the first Monday in June last, at Bloomington, but Charles Dewey and Jonathan Lindley, the other two persons appointed, not having attended it was thought advisable, to defer until the next month the selection of a site for the seminary.

The trustees present particularly wishing to have a full board before the business should be transacted.

Accordingly on the day of July last, the following trustees met, viz: William Lowe, Jonathan Nichols, David H. Maxwell, John M. Jenkins and Charles Dewey, who having also complied with the requisitions of the law, the whole of the trustees present (Jonathan Lindley having failed to attend) proceeded, forthwith to the reserved township, and in obedience to the act establishing the state seminary, they selected a section on the reserved township, most contiguous to Bloomington, being the west half of section four, and east half of section five, containing by computation six hundred and six acres and twenty nine hundredths. — The site chosen for the seminary is the N. W. quarter of section four, about one quarter of a mile due south from Bloomington on a beautiful eminence, and convenient to an excellent spring of water, the only one on the section selected that could with convenience answer the purposes of the seminary.

After having made the above selections the trustees proceeded to appoint James Borland esq. agent for the seminary, who having given bond with security, as required by law, proceeded under the direction of the trustees, to lay off the seminary square, streets, lots &c. as is more fully shown by the plot herewith submitted. on the 13th and 14th days of last March, the sale of the seminary lots took place on the following terms to-wit: one fifth part of the purchase money was required in hand, and the balance in three equal and annual instalments, and the lots with the exception of Nos. 8 and 4 (reserved on the account of the spring) sold for the sum of six thousand and forty two dollars and fifty cents:

The trustees feeling anxiously solicitous, that the proceeds of the sale should be such as to meet the expectations of the legislature, and also enable them to erect the building contemplated by the act of the last session of the Assembly, thought it best not to exact the fifth part in either land office money or specie, as under the existing difficulty in procuring such funds, a demand of the kind must have very materially reduced the amount of the sales. The purchasers notes with security call for dollars, and it is with the legislature to say (as was understood at the sales) what money shall be received in payment of said notes. The trustees yet have done nothing towards erecting a building for the reception of students or for the use of a professor, but propose commencing as early as practicable next spring. As it is made the duty of the trustees to lay before the present General Assembly a plan of a building, the accompanying one, on the plan of Princeton college in New-Jersey is submitted.

The trustees are aware that the plan proposed, may be objected to on the account of its magnitude, but when they reflect that the constitution of our state contemplates this institution as gradually rising from the humble grade of a seminary, in which the elementary parts of an education only can be had, to that of a full grown university, in which every thing appertaining to science shall be taught, that it is possible for the human intellect to comprehend; they are fully convinced that it would be improper to commence a building, which in a few years would be found inadequate to the purposes intended, and as it would respect future improvements, difficulties which would be irreparable.

The expenses of advertising the sale of lots not being known until the printers forward their accounts the trustees have it not in their power to make a statement of expenditures.

All which is respectfully submitted.

DAVID H. MAXWELL,
JONATHAN NICHOLS,
JOHN M. JENKINS.
WILLIAM LOWE.

Mr. Hay from the committee to whom was referred so much of the Governor's message as relates to the Jeffersonville Ohio canal company; reported, that in discharge of their duty, the attention of the committee has been drawn to the importance of the subject committed to their charge as well as the various interests therewith connected.

The execution of a canal at the falls of the Ohio in this state must render it an important point of deposit, for imported as well as exported articles, and its commercial advantages will induce a concentration of capital, which will become identified with the wealth of the state, and which in due time will remove the inducements which exist at present, with our citizens, to expend their money, without the state for objects of merchandize.

The capital which this state has and may invest in the Jeffersonville canal stock, will with the completion of the object at once become valuable, and which must be productive of an annual and profitable fund, which may be applied to defraying the expenses of government or to such other objects of public interest as the General Assembly may from time to time direct.

The committee in the further discharge of their duty represent, that from a reference to the third proposition, which has become with the others, matters of compact between the United States and this state, it will be found that the three per cent fund, is to be applied to roads and canals, and (to use the language of the act of Congress itself) shall be applied to those objects under the direction of the legislature thereof. In the opinion of the committee, if the General Assembly shall patronize the enterprize, in a manner only corresponding to its importance, the interests of Ohio will induce that state, to unite with our exertions, as well as the commercial towns, on the shores of the river in both states, in removing the great obstruction to the navigation of our noblest commercial stream.

The committee believe the execution of the proposed canal, should be considered as an object of state character, and with views of liberal policy, the interest and character of the state will be advanced and supported by its ultimate completion, under the patronage of the General Assembly.

The committee therefore submit the following resolutions:

1st. Resolved, That the completion of the Jeffersonville Ohio canal is an object of deep interest and lasting importance to the citizens of this state.

2nd. Resolved, That it is expedient that one part of the three per cent fund, which has accrued. or may hereafter accrue to this state, be applied from time to time in completing the Jeffersonville Ohio canal, provided the government of the state of Ohio shall interest itself in its final execution.

3d. Resolved, That the committee be instructed to report a bill authorising the subscription for stock on behalf of this state.

Mr. Hay further reported that as chairman of the said committee he had addressed a request to the officers of the Jeffersonville Ohio canal company, to furnish the committee with information relative to the said institution, as to receipts, expenditures &c. That from the report of the secretary of that institution, it appears that 1219 lottery tickets have been sold for cash, and that 2536 dolls has been received at the treasury of the company for tickets sold, the balance still being in the hands of the agents of the company.

That 1497 lottery tickets have been sold on credit, generally secured by endorsed notes, which notes principally remain in the hands of the agents.

That the whole number of tickets returned as sold by the agents is 2716. That 5100 tickets have been drawn, among which were prizes to the amount of 14,370 principally in favor of the institution.

From the report of the treasurer it appears that,

The amount of stock subscribed by individuals is - - - - - $ 108,650

Stock subscribed by the state of Indiana - - - - - 10,000

Cash paid by individuals including 2536 dolls. paid by the managers of the canal lottery, - - - - - 9,938 09 should have no impediments in their way when they proceed to the discharge of their duty.

And further, that in the opinion of the said committee, there is no necessity to grant any relief to such as have settled on and improved any part of the said tract, other than that which may be located for the town by the commissioners, as the owners thereof will continue to enjoy the same until they are removed by law.

Report of the Committee on Education.

Mr. Hay, from the committee on Education, to whom was referred the report of the trustees of the state seminary, the petition of James Pearson and others, of Orange county, and the resolutions of Peter Jones and others, of Posey county, reported:

That the said committee have had the subject referred to them under consideration, and, aware of their importance, with hesitancy venture to give their opinion. That Education is the first and greatest pillar in a republican government is not denied, and in a rapidly growing state, where character and habits are yet to be formed, the promotion of the education of youth should receive the early and united attention of government. But the representatives of the people having the control and direction of the means by which our schools and universities are to be founded & endowed, should act with caution and deliberation, for one false step, one imprudent act may produce an injury which never can be repaired. The means afforded, with proper management, cannot fail to make the university of this state as rich in funds as any in the union, and funds will always command the ablest professors and tutors.

The trustees of the state seminary have promptly attended to the duty assigned them, but whether they should progress further in their labors for the present is, in the opinion of the committee, somewhat doubtful. The act of incorporation (with due deference to the framers of it) is also, in the opinion of the committee, materially defective, and far from being such an one as should govern so important an institution.

The committee therefore submit the following resolution, to wit:

Resolved, That it is inexpedient at this session of the General Assembly to incorporate any schools of learning or point out by law any system of education; and that it is expedient to wait the reception of the report of the committee who are requested by a joint resolution of this General Assembly to draw up and report a general system of education at the next meeting of the General Assembly.

Which report was read and concurred in by the house.

Mr. Hay, from the committee on education, further reported, that the said committee have had the petition of Samuel King (which was referred to them) under consideration ; that having no evidence upon that subject before them, they are unable to say whether relief should be granted.

The lessees must have made their contracts with a perfect knowledge of the terms, and must also have seen the land before they leased ; but from what is set forth in the petition referred to them, the committee have no doubt but that more improvements have been made than was required of them ; and therefore, to relieve them in some measure, submit a bill for the relief of certain lessees of land in Gibson county, reserved for the use of a seminary of learning and vested in the legislature of this state.

Which bill he handed in at the clerk's table, where it was read and ordered to be read a second time on to-morrow.

On motion,

The house proceeded to consider the orders of the day—and,

Thereupon,

According to order, the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole to consider the bill relative to the incorporation of companies for manufacturing purposes, Mr. Sullivan of Knox in the chair, and after some time spent in the consideration of the said bill, the Speaker resumed the chair and Mr. Sullivan reported, that the committee of the whole had, according to order, had the said bill under consideration, and had made some amendments thereto, in which he asked the concurrence of the house.

An act for the relief of John Depauw—and

The house proceeded to consider the bill relative to the incorporation of companies for manufacturing purposes and the amendments made thereto by the committee of the whole house.

The first amendment, which was the inserting of the word 'ten' in the blank in the first section, before the word 'years,' was read, and on the question of concurrence therein? It was determined in the negative?

The second amendment, which is the following addition to the second section, to wit:

"And no right or privilege granted to any company or incorporation by this act, shall be so construed as to prevent the General Assembly at any time from altering, amending or repealing this act if the same be deemed necessary," was read, and on the question of concurrence therein, the Ayes and Noes were demanded by Messrs. Hay and Hanna.

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Clark, Goudie, Green, Grass, Hanna, Holman, McDonald, Milroy, Powell, Robb, Sturgus, Sullivan of Knox, Swaine, Zenor and Graham, Speaker—15.

Those who voted in the negative were,

Messrs. Battell, Chambers, Crawford, Gibson, Hay, John Merrell, Ross, Sullivan of Jefferson, Tipton, and Yandes—11.

And so the amendment was concurred.

By unanimous consent, the second and third amendments were concurred in.

The fifth amendment, which is the striking out of that part of the seventh section, which contemplates the Individual responsibility of each stockholder at the time of the dissolution of the copartnership to the extent of their respective shares of stock, and the insertion of a provision by which the stockholders, at any time, are responsible and liable both jointly and severally, for the whole amount of debts, and by which the same may be collected of the corporation by an action of debt, and from each individual of the corporation if the company fail to pay the same in their corporate capacity, was considered by the house ; and the question on concurring therein was before the house—when,

Mr. Robb moved that the farther consideration of the said bill be indefinitely postponed.

And the question being put upon that motion, it was determined in the negative ; and the Ayes and Noes being demanded by Messrs. Robb and Battell,

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Clark, Goudie, Hanna, Holman, McDonald, Milroy, Powell, Robb and Sullivan of Knox—9.

Those who voted in the negative were,

Messrs. Battell, Chambers, Crawford, Gibson, Grass Green, Hay, John, Merrell, Ross, Sturgus, Sullivan of Jefferson, Swaine, Tipton, Yandes, Zenor and Graham, Speaker—17.

The house resumed the consideration of the amendment to the said bill last mentioned.

And the question being put, Will the house concur therein? It was determined in the affirmative ; and the Ayes and Noes being demanded by two members,

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Clark, Goudie, Grass, Green, Hanna, Holman, John, McDonald, Milroy, Powell, Robb, Sturgus, Sullivan of Knox, Zenor and Graham, Speaker—15.

Those who voted in the negative were.

Messrs. Battell, Chambers, Crawford, Gibson, Hay, Merrell, Ross, Sullivan of Jefferson, Swaine, Tipton, and Yandes—11.

On motion by Mr. Battell,

Resolved, That the further consideration of the bill aforesaid be postponed till the second Monday in December next.

Mr. Ross gave notice that on to-morrow, or some subsequent day of the present session he will ask leave to introduce a bill to incorporate the New-Albany manufacturing company.

A message from the Senate by their assistant secretary Mr. Dunbar,

Announcing that the Senate have concurred in the amendment made to the engrossed bill, by this house entitled an act supplementary to an act, entitled an act, supplementary to an act, entitled an act, fixing seats of justice in all new counties hereafter to be laid off, so far as that amendment contemplates county treasurers receiving two per cent, on monies arising from the sale of lots at any county seat; and that they have amended the amendment made by this house, to said bill, which provides that treasurers shall not receive more than three per cent on all monies which shall pass through their hands, and the Senate have receded from the first amendment made by that body to the engrossed bill from this house, entitled an act amendatory to the several acts, regulating the assessment and collection of revenue in this state, (which amendment contemplated the assessment of a tax upon certain horned cattle therein named,) and that they insist on the amendment providing for the printing of fifty copies of the said bill to be filed in the offices of the clerks of the several circuit courts within the state.

Mr. Ross moved that the house concur in the amendment made by the Senate to the amendment made by this house to the bill supplementary to an act, entitled an act, supplementary to an act, fixing seats of justice in all new counties hereafter to be laid off, and the question on that motion being put, it was determined in the negative.

Ordered, That the Senate be informed thereof.

On motion,

Resolved, That the house recede from their objections to the amendment made by the Senate to the engrossed bill, from this house, entitled an act amendatory to the several acts, regulating the assessment and collecting revenue in this state, which contemplates the printing of fifty copies of the said bill to be filed in the offices of the clerks of the several circuit courts in this state.

According to order, the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole to consider the several bills, heretofore referred on the subject of roads and highways, and also all the other documents, petitions, and remonstrances on the same subject, Mr. Ross in the chair, and after some time spent in the consideration thereof, the Speaker resumed the chair and Mr. Ross reported that the committee of the whole had according to order had the several bills, documents, petitions and remonstrances under consideration and had made some progress therein, but not having time to go through therewith, had directed him to ask leave to sit again.

A message from the Governor by Mr. Lilly.

Announcing that his Excellency did on Saturday the 23d instant approve and sign,

An act to repeal an act, entitled an act, to amend an act entitled an act subjecting real and personal estate to execution, approved January 18th, 1818 ; also,

An act extending the boundaries of Randolph county.

And on this day, (Tuesday Dec. 26th,)

An act for the relief of Sheriffs.

On motion,

And the House adjourned till to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

Wednesday, December 27th, 1820.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

A message from the Senate by Mr. Polke,

Announcing that the Senate have passed a joint resolution of the General Assembly of the state of Indiana, to promote education, which originated in this house, with an amendment in which the concurrence of this house is requested.

The said amendment having been read, it was resolved that the house concur therein.

Ordered, That the Senate be notified thereof.

Mr. Milroy from the committee of ways and means, submitted the following report :

The committee of ways and means to whom was referred so much of the Governor's message as relates to the revenue, together with the report of the auditor and treasurer, report that they have had the subjects referred to them under consideration, and from the best evidence the committee are able to make the expenditures of the current year, commencing 27th November 1820, will amount to nineteen thousand seven hundred dollars, all which will more fully appear from the following detail :

In discharging the claims of the judiciary department including outstanding claims and allowances to the sheriff of Harrison county for his attendance on Supreme court

$ 5,800 00

In discharge of the claims of the legislative department including incidental expenses

8,500 00

In discharge of the claims of the Executive department

2,400 00

In discharge of warrants audited and not yet presented at the treasury

800 00

In discharge of claims due for the enumeration of the free white male inhabitants of this state

600 00

In discharge of allowances to the commissioners appointed to locate the permanent seat of government 600 00

In discharge of militia expenditures including outstanding claims and allowances to agents of salt lick reserves 500 00

In discharge of the contingent fund 500 00

Making a sum total of 19,700 00

The probable amount of receipts at the treasury department for the current year commencing as aforesaid, on Nov. 27th 1820, will probably amount agreeably to the estimate of the auditor of public accounts to the sum of $ 13,769 00

Which will more fully appear from the following detail.

Amount due from the several counties from which duplicate returns have been received 10,681 00

Amount due from the counties from which no duplicate returns have been received estimated by the returns of former years 3,087 00

Making a sum total 18,769 00

The committee further would remark that the auditor of public accounts reports arrearages due from sundry sheriffs for the years 1817, 1818 and 1819 to the amount of 3,948 54

Which added to the probable receipts of the current year would make a sum total of 17,717 54 00

But as it is reasonable to suppose that as many delinquencies will accrue in the present as in former years, the committee do not feel themselves warranted in estimating the probable receipts at the treasury at a greater sum than that above stated to wit : 13,769 00

Which sum deducted from the probable demands at the treasury, in the current year will leave a deficit of 5,931 00

Which deficit it becomes the duty of the General Assembly to provide means to supply, and as to the means most proper for this purpose, those which present themselves for consideration are a resort to loans as heretofore or an issue of treasury notes.

The committee would further remark that under existing circumstances it would be improper to provide by taxation for the discharge of the public debt at present, as it is believed that the bank to which this debt is due, will be satisfied at present with the payment of the interest, which may be satisfactorily done by converting the interest due into a loan.

The duty assigned the committee by law, of examining the offices of the auditor of public accounts and treasurer of state have been performed, and the committee have the satisfaction to state, that the books of their departments are kept in a manner creditable to those officers, and that the amount of money in the treasury, produced to the committee by the treasurer, corresponds with his annual report.

The treasurer furnished the committee with a report, in detail, of the receipts and expenditures of the preceding year, which has been found on examination to correspond with the treasury books and with the aggregate receipts and expenditures as per the annual report—which report is herewith submitted, together with the estimates of the ensuing year, emanating from the treasury office, and also a report of the auditor of public accounts of the probable amount of revenue for the current year.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. Powell from the committee to whom was referred the petition of sundry citizens of Dearborn county, praying an alteration in the mode of transacting county business, reported as follows:

That in the opinion of the committee, the mode suggested by the petitioners would in many respects be preferable to the mode now in practice.

That the committee are warranted in forming the opinion, not only by the result of the practice pursued by many of our sister states, but by actual observation. in many of the counties of this state, consisting of a dense population, the great variety of business that necessarily devolves on the county commissioners, renders it totally out of their power to transact the same, with that degree of correctness, with which, if transacted in the townships respectively, the same would be done.

The committee would further observe that it is truly consistent with the genius of our republican institutions, for the people to meet and to elect those persons, who are in any respect to have the control of their concerns, in which they are immediately interested, and it is believed that if the system proposed by the petitioners, were adopted it would be just and equitable in its operation, truly congenial with the feelings of the people, facilitate the collection of the revenue, preserve order and harmony in society, and consequently add greatly to the respectability of the state.

The committee therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution :

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to draft and bring in a bill, authorising the people of the different townships to meet and elect all such officers as may be necessary for the regulation of township concerns.

Report of the Judiciary Committee on the subject of the correspondence between the Governor of this state and the acting Governor of the state of Kentucky, respecting fugitives from the justice of this state.

MR. MERRELL, from the Judiciary Committee, submitted the following

REPORT :

The Judiciary Committee have, according to order, had the communication of his Excellency the Governor, respecting the demand made by him on the acting Governor of Kentucky, of certain fugitives from justice, and have agreed to report as follows :

From the papers before your committee, it appears that Robert Stevens, a member of the Kentucky legislature, and others, having been indicted at the November term of the Harrison circuit court, for manstealing, were demanded of the acting governor of Kentucky, as fugitives from justice, and that the legislature of Kentucky, on being informed of the demand made, did, by resolution, refuse the surrender of Stevens, and the same was also refused by the acting governor of Kentucky. The point, principally relied on by the legislature, in their refusal to deliver up Mr. Stevens, is, that the law of Indiana, for the violation of which he had been indicted, is inconsistent with the constitution of the United States. The indictment, among other things, charges Stevens and others, with having feloniously and forcibly arrested Susan, a woman of color, with a design to take her, the said Susan, out of this state, (to wit : Indiana) without establishing the claim of them, the said Stevens and others according to the laws of this state and of the United States.

To prove the unconstitutionality of the law under which this indictment was founded, a clause of the second section of the 4th article of the constitution of the United States is referred to, which is as follows.

“No person held to service or labor in one state under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on the claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.”

From this clause a conclusion is draw that Congress has the sole power to regulate the mode of claiming persons owing service and labor in one state and escaping to another and of punishing all abuses that may accrue from improper claims : but your committee cannot admit the justness of the above conclusions—they would infer, that as states are only prohibited from discharging the obligations to serve ; this single prohibition implies, that any other regulation of the subject might be made at the discretion of the several states, and a further proof that no more was intended than to prohibit one state from emancipating the slaves of another, may be found in the tenth article amendatory to the constitution, which provides, that the powers not delegated to the United States by the constitution nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively or to the people.

The law of the United States respecting persons escaping from their masters, fixes no penalty for abuses that arise under it ; and though it is said that the courts of Kentucky will remunerate him who may illegally be seized and brought thither without just cause : yet those courts cannot punish criminal offences committed in another state, nor can it be admitted for a moment that those states alone, where slavery is tolerated, are to try the right to freedom, where it is disputed, and to prohibit and punish manstealing. Though the law of Congress provides that judges, magistrates of counties, &c. in certain cases, may give a certificate by which a fugitive, owing service or labor, may be recovered : yet this law, so far as it imposes duties on state officers, is not binding, for, if such were the case, they might, in time, be altogether perverted from what our constitution intended. If, therefore, the constitution of the United States requiring the person owing service or labor to be delivered up on the claim of the party to whom the service or labor is due, is to effect state officers, state laws then ought to be made. No claim can be recognized nor delivery made, unless by a competent court. If no state law on the subject be made, our courts have nothing to guide them in aiding a claim guaranteed by the constitution of the United States. As, therefore, Congress have not provided that abuses, under this law should be punished, and from the small number of the United States judges who are authorized to act, much inconvenience would arise, it became both the right and the duty of our state to pass some law on the subject ; and, though our statute may not please the unfortunate slave holder in every respect, yet, so far is it from discharging from service and labor, that it provides that state officers shall aid the restoration of fugitives from labor to the claimant, that as speedy a decision should be had as in questions of far less consequence than freedom ; and that a penalty should be imposed upon those who, unauthorized either by the laws of the United States or of this state, commit violence on others, who, by our constitution, are presumed to be free.

Your committee cannot but view with regret the course that has been pursued by our sister state, and which if persisted in, may be attended with the most fearful consequences. If the violators of our laws find protection in another state, and the wise provisions of the constitution that fugitives from justice shall be surrendered, are disregarded, then, indeed, we may predict a speedy dissolution of those bonds, under which we have hitherto acted as members of one family—when our rights are again invaded force may be repelled with force.

That such expedients may not be adopted, is ardently to be desired; but they are to be feared when alleged crimes find means to avoid judicial investigation. If any of the laws of Indiana are unconstitutional, and if any of the persons indicted in our courts are innocent, ought it not to appear from some other authority than the legislature of Kentucky, which, by its own constitution, is prohibited from exercising judiciary powers?

Your committee considering that the constitutionality of the law which Mr. Stevens is accused of violating, cannot be doubted, forbear to remark on some other arguments brought forward by the Kentucky legislature, which relate to the policy of the law for which we are not accountable to them.

Your committee beg leave to offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That his excellency the governor be requested to communicate to the President of the United States or to Congress his proceedings on the demand made by him of the acting governor of Kentucky, of Robert Stevens and others, fugitives from justice, and enter into such negotiations on the subject, as he may deem most for the honor of the state.
